A summary of the Zoom chat from Unearth a Story with SciStarter and the Collaborative Summer Library Program

Find the SciStarter resources for summer library programs here.

From the Chat:

Citizen Science Projects & Tools:

- Wildlife Projects mentioned: iNaturalist, Cicada Safari, National Moth Week, Monarch Watch, Frog Watch, Great Backyard Bird Count, Gotham Bat Conservancy, local salamander surveys, bluebird boxes, pollinator research like through Great Sunflower Project and Ask a Bumblebee,
- Environmental Monitoring: GLOBE Observer (land cover, clouds, etc), Soil Testing USA
- Paleontology: Fossil Finder (project) and Triceratops Gulch Dinosaur Dig (event)
- Discussion on using citizen science kits and programs-in-a-box, visit SciStarter.org/Library

Related Summer Library Programs & Resources:

- Teen escape rooms themed on "National Treasure," (contact Rhiannon: rhiannon.graham@flowermound.gov)
- Various Reading challenges across states

Questions & Clarifications:

- April "Acts of Science" can be reported on CitizenScienceMonth.org to be counted in the goal of 2.50 Million Acts of Science for America 250 (Goal is for April only, but year-long participation will be reported to America Gives, the volunteer effort behind America 250.
- Participation in Acts of Science: Connected events in April is FREE - sign up